Timeout!
Calling the Right Play for Children with Severe Neurological Impairment

Jay G. Berry, M.D., M.P.H.
Harvard Medical School, Boston Children's Hospital

Tuesday, February 16, 2016
12:00 P.M.
Mailman Center Room 3023
Medical Campus
(A light lunch will be provided; space is limited; note variant time and venue)

The Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy, jointly with the Department of Pediatrics and the Mailman Center for Child Development, will host Jay Berry, M.D., M.P.H. of Harvard Medical School and Boston Children's Hospital, in the Institute's next Dialogue in Research Ethics. Dr. Berry's session will center on children with severe neurological impairment.

Read More
Conferences

24th Annual Florida Bioethics Conference Set for April 8
The University of Miami’s Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy will host its 24th annual spring conference in conjunctions with the Florida Bioethics Network, April 8, at the Miami Biscayne Bay Marriott.

For information on the conference, registration instructions and FBN Membership, please contact the UM Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy at ethics@miami.edu or 305-243-5723.

In the News

Bioethics Institute Marks History, Milestone
UM’s "Bioethics Program" has been designated the Miller School of Medicine’s Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy. A luncheon to mark both the occasion and the unit’s quarter-century track record of education, research and service, was held at the Gordon Center.

Publications

Genome Editing and Public Policy
Rosario Isasi, who has recently joined the Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy, the Dr. John T. Macdonald Foundation Department of Human Genetics, the John P. Hussman Institute for Human Genomics, and the Interdisciplinary Stem Cell Institute, has published "Editing policy to fit the genome?" in Science magazine.

The business of bodies: Ethical perspectives on for-profit body donation companies
Tom Champney, Cell Biology Professor and affiliated faculty member of the Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy, has recently published "The business of bodies: Ethical perspectives on for-profit body donation companies" in Clinical Anatomy.
Decision Making in Vegetative Patients
Voluntary Bioethics Faculty Member Dr. Robin N. Fiore and Miller School medical student Daniel J. Miklin have published "fMRI Imaging and Decision Making in Vegetative Patients: Ethics, Technology, and Welfare" in the American Journal of Bioethics/Neuroscience.

---

Ethics and Health Information Technology
Prof. Kenneth W. Goodman, director of the Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy, has published Ethics, Medicine, and Information Technology: Intelligent Machines and the Transformation of Health Care with Cambridge University Press.

---

Copyright © 2016 University of Miami. All rights reserved.

Contact Us

University of Miami Institute for Bioethics and Health Policy
Post Office Box 016960
1400 NW 10th Avenue, Suite 916
Miami, Florida 33136
305-243-5723
ethics@miami.edu