

The University of Miami School of Education invites you to a Teaching and Learning Community Forum on:

Aligning Research, Policy, and Practice in an Era of Accountability

Join us for a dialogue on the consequences, challenges, and ethics of "school reform."

featuring

Alfie Kohn

The Deadly Effects of Corporate-Style 'School
Reform': Challenging High-Stakes Testing and Other
Impediments to Learning

Friday, March 30, 2012

Time:
8:00am - 12:00pm

Location:
Storer Auditorium
University of Miami
Coral Gables Campus

Invited Panelists include:

Kathy Hebda, Deputy Chancellor for Educator Quality, FL DOE

Dr. Maria de Armas, Asst. Superintendent, Curriculum and Instruction, K-12 Core Curriculum

Dr. Wendy Morrison-Cavendish, Assistant Professor, UM School of Education, Teaching and Learning

Andrea Adelman, Early Childhood ESE Teacher, UM Doctoral Student

Xuchilt Perez, High School English Teacher, UM Doctoral Student

Limited Seating Available

To RSVP contact Laurie McDonald at lmcdonald@miami.edu or (305) 284-6119
For parking and more information, visit <http://www.education.miami.edu/TALCF>