
 DIALOGUES IN RESEARCH ETHICS

Dialogue 3:
Publication and Authorship

Noon, November 13, 1992, RMSB 3109
Lunch will be provided

The growth of scientific publishing has created special and interesting problems for those who seek to – and ought to – make their work known to colleagues and a broader audience. The problems of redundant publication, gift authorship, self plagiarism, courtesy authorship and so forth can damage our fragile systems for propagating scientific knowledge, affect reputations, and be a source of tension among colleagues.

Co-chairs of the third dialogue are Kermit Carraway, Ph.D., Chair, Department of Cell Biology and Anatomy, and Kenneth Goodman, Ph.D., Director of the UM Forum for Medical Ethics and Philosophy.

A reading packet will be sent on request. Copies of the packet will be placed on reserve in the Microbiology and Immunology library (RMSB 3109).

Dialogues in Research Ethics is a series of monthly conferences sponsored by the Forum for Medical Ethics and Philosophy, the Department of Microbiology and Immunology, and the Office of the Deputy Dean for Research and Graduate Studies.
